

Zishuo Liu:

I used Chat gpt to generate some images of character images. Although these images may not be used in the future, they can help members to have a fixed general image of the characters as a reference when writing the plot or future plots. And the members of our group also had further discussions on the images. Everyone was satisfied with the image of the male protagonist Santos, but there was still debate about the female protagonist Vera. We will solve this problem next week.
